10000 SANTA MONICA BOULEVARD | LOS ANGELES, CA

Ten Thousand, the captivating 40-story luxury high-rise residential tower currently underway on Santa Monica Boulevard. Set to open this summer from its extraordinary location at the edge of Century City and Beverly Hills, Ten Thousand will soon be home to 283 two- and three-bedroom residences all boasting dramatic floor-to-ceiling vistas framed by Los Angeles' most exquisite cityscape, spanning from the Pacific Ocean to Downtown and the Hollywood Hills.

Designed by Handel Architects with thoughtfully chic interiors by Shamir Shah Design, the building will feature painstakingly crafted modern influences, iconic architecture and dynamic design throughout, from the art-infused first floor lobby to the sloped roof – a first for the area and striking departure from the surrounding flat-top buildings. Many residences offer private balconies for the perfect balance of indoor and outdoor living, and all units feature designer kitchens, stone finishes, open floor plans, spacious California closets, and two-and-a-half baths. A meticulously curated collection of amenities and services comprises the heart of Ten Thousand, easily making this development the most sophisticated and well thought out residential building in all of Los Angeles.

Transcending the standards for elevated living, Ten Thousand features an exciting array of amenities including an indoor/outdoor resident's lounge, chef's kitchen, and private cabanas for year-round entertaining; a state-of-the-art fully-staffed fitness center designed by Jay Wright; three exercise studios, Pilates room and indoor and outdoor pools including ion filtration system; video conference rooms; a private theater; groundbreaking residential technology for round-the-clock, on-demand convenience; personalized concierge services, onsite lifestyle manager and details-obsessed staff trained to preemptively meet any need and act as each resident's personal assistant; luxury vehicles with on-call personal drivers; and an inimitable private park with tranquil landscaped gardens covering a full acre with access to an outdoor chef's kitchen and tennis court.

Centered on the second and third floor and totaling 75,000 square feet, the generous amenity spaces will host fitness, fashion and culinary experiences designed to meet every whim of its residents through exclusive partnerships with some of Los Angeles' most iconic brands.
