A CRESCENT HEIGHTS® RESIDENCE

OVERVIEW

Ten Thousand is a 40-story luxury residential tower created by Crescent Heights and designed by Handel Architects to uniquely fit Los Angeles' modernist architectural history and its contemporary lifestyle. Located at the intersection of Beverly Hills and Century City, Ten Thousand is destined to become one of the city's iconic architectural landmarks, distinguished by an unprecedented array of luxury amenities and exclusive hospitality-style services, as well as a private art collection.

Handel Architects' design for Ten Thousand was inspired by the work of 20th-century modernists whose residential architecture celebrate the quintessential Los Angeles lifestyle – one where indoor and outdoor are seamlessly, elegantly intertwined. Lobby and amenity spaces with vast window walls have been created by Shamir Shah Design to reflect warmth, elegance and sophistication. In the residences above, floor-to-ceiling windows, combined with the building's unobstructed site lines, result in panoramic views spanning from downtown Los Angeles and the Hollywood Hills to the Pacific Ocean. The property offers one-, two-, three-, and four- bedroom residences as well as 75,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor amenities and an extensive service program. Designed to offer a sustainable living environment, the residential tower is LEED Gold certified by the U.S. Green Building Council.

BUILDING DESIGN

Handel Architects designed Ten Thousand as a modern all-glass structure composed of four crystalline quadrants crowned with a distinctively angled roof. The architectural silhouette evolved from the process of creating a dynamic shape that would contrast with the area's surrounding flattop architecture, defining its position in the Los Angeles skyline. The exterior glass creates a luminous and transparent façade with distinct angles and terrace enclaves that accentuate its dramatic silhouette. Each portion of the façade is composed of multiple panes of glass, each slightly angled away from the other to refract sunlight during the day and transform into an illuminated beacon at night.

INTERIOR DESIGN

Warm, refined amenity spaces by Shamir Shah Design blur the boundaries between interiors and exteriors. Natural finishes such as titanium travertine from Italy, statuary marble, limestone, grained walnut, and cerused oak create a rich, yet understated atmosphere. Light that enters through soaring window walls accentuates a collection of postmodern and contemporary works by artists including Jacob Hashimoto, Aaron Wexler, Adam Katseff, Suzan Etkins, and Jeffrey Milstein. Furnishings by Christian Liagre, Poltrona Frau, Herman Miller, and Bassam Fellows, among others, offer the perfect balance of classic and contemporary.

LANDSCAPE DESIGN

Celebrating Southern California's estate garden tradition, Ten Thousand features a variety of local climate-adapted plants, all selected to complement the building's upscale contemporary aesthetic. A south-facing one-acre private park is an exclusive full-service outdoor living space that includes a great lawn, a sunning pool and spa, a tennis court, strolling gardens that shape intimate and open spaces, a chef's kitchen, a theater with an 84-foot screen and fire pit, and a dedicated dog run lawn. To create a seamless transition between the residents' indoor lounge and the great lawn, Ten Thousand's landscape design incorporates various fire and water features constructed out of solid granite that can be observed from the elevated indoor fitness center. Ten Thousand's grand entrance offers an enclave of privacy and serenity with contrasting visual textures. Twelve-foot Ice Blue Yellow-Wood hedges along Santa Monica

Boulevard, lower-growing evergreen shrubs, and native blooms all create a living tapestry with vibrant color throughout every season.

LOCATION

Situated at the gateway entrance of Beverly Hills and across from the Los Angeles Country Club, Ten Thousand enjoys a prominent location at the heart of fashion and entertainment in Los Angeles. The property is walking distance to Beverly Hills' shops and restaurants, as well as Century City office buildings and the Westfield Century City mall, which debuted an $800-million reimagining in 2017. Ten Thousand's collection of luxury house cars is available to chauffeur residents to local destinations upon request.

LOBBY

Arrival at Ten Thousand unfolds over a long, broad driveway that is screened for privacy by an impressive evergreen hedge and is accessible from both Santa Monica Boulevard and Moreno Drive. The driveway culminates at a porte cochère with a heated canopy, which opens to the two-story lobby featuring a commissioned installation by artist Jacob Hashimoto. Lobby flooring is a sumptuous black titanium travertine from Italy, and the concierge desk is crafted from puro white Concetto stone. Dramatic five-foot-tall, hand-blown glass chandeliers illuminate the lobby seating area. An inviting grand staircase with travertine treads and curved bronze-clad rails leads to the second floor.

RESIDENCES

Ten Thousand's spacious one- to four-bedroom residences with flowing floor plans enjoy extraordinary natural light and panoramic views through floor-to-ceiling windows. Many also feature private balconies, and all corner residences have been designed with a unique three-façade exposure. Residences are accessed via wide residential corridors that are designed with elegant Phillip Jeffries and Wolf-Gordon natural textured wall coverings and provide natural light through windows overlooking the city.
